

EASTWAVE AI CODING RULES

Version 0.1

Purpose: Control coding agents.

This document overrides generic coding behavior.

Applies To:

Codex

Claude Code

Future coding agents

SOURCE OF TRUTH

Read in order:

00-eastwave-website-build-brief.md

01-brand-brief.md

02-design-direction.md

03-visual-identity-system.md

04-homepage-script.md

05-services.md

Only after reading should implementation begin.

DO NOT

Do not invent clients.

Do not invent metrics.

Do not write generic agency copy.

Do not replace strategy.

Do not redesign the brand.

Do not add unnecessary dependencies.

Do not use stock imagery.

Do not overuse animations.

Do not rebuild architecture without approval.

BUILD APPROACH

Build feature-by-feature.

Order:

Layout

↓

Hero

↓

Homepage

↓

Services

↓

Interaction

↓

Polish

↓

Deployment

Never attempt the full site at once.

COMPONENT RULES

Components must:

be reusable

be responsive

be accessible

be maintainable

be lightweight

Avoid:

large monolithic files

COPY RULES

Copy must:

feel strategic

feel calm

feel commercial

feel human

Avoid:

innovative solutions

AI-powered marketing

cutting-edge

transform your business

future-proof

DESIGN RULES

Respect:

Ocean

Deep Navy

Typography-led

Illustration support

Apple × Notion restraint

Do not introduce:

new color systems

dark themes

random gradients

INTERACTION RULES

Motion must:

teach

guide

reward exploration

Never distract.

IMPLEMENTATION RULES

After changes:

Explain:

files changed

reason

future impact

possible cleanup

Do not silently modify architecture.

REVIEW RULE

Before completion ask:

Does this increase trust?

Does this improve clarity?

Does this reduce friction?

Would EastWave approve this?

If not:

revise.

DEFINITION OF DONE

Feature complete means:

Works.

Looks correct.

Matches brand.

Responsive.

Readable.

Minimal.

No obvious regressions.